

Forest of Arts

TIM DELANO

On a sunny weekend in October, many visitors came out for the Forest of Arts at Hopkins Demonstration Forest, just south of Oregon City. Crafts, music and food were some of the main attractions, along with wilderness living, forest musical instruments, and hidden tree cookies.

Visitors had a chance to explore and seek unique sights as they strolled down the trail to the Amphitheater to hear the musicians during four performances on both Saturday and Sunday.

Hopefully this will become a yearly event. ■

“The Xylem-phone” at Hopkins during Forest of Arts.

So much talent from Three Rivers Artist Guild in Forest Hall.

Opening and closing ceremonies with Lauri Shainsky.

Demonstration of wilderness living!

Hand-on art to take home.

Visitors helped weave a forest tapestry.